Dear University Community,

As we announced in July 2018, Pitt has started its journey toward implementing a new, modern HR, payroll, and financial system. We are pleased to announce that the name of this integrated cloud solution is Pitt Worx.

The upcoming phase of the Pitt Worx implementation is the Talent Center, which encompasses all of the recruiting and onboarding activities here at the University. This module will replace PittSource, both internally and externally. A new career portal will allow applicants a seamless process through the candidate experience, with timely communications and the ability to see where they are in the application process. The Talent Center will launch in mid-December with education opportunities before and after launch.

We are thrilled to bring this innovative system to you and all of the University community. We welcome your feedback throughout this process and we look forward to sharing even more with you in the coming months.
